

A FEW WORDS ON A DARK SUBJECT

OUR SUNDAY VISITOR

It is with the most sincere fervor that I beg your Masses and prayers for the liberation of Katanga from the United Nations forces which are besieging her. Africa seems so far, far away, but we must force ourselves to take an interest, for one of the most crucial battles of our country is being fought out down there and our own country is lined up on the wrong side.

When the Belgians moved out of the Congo in the summer of 1960, the Communists moved in — first, Premier Patrice Lumumba, later killed; and now Soviet-backed Antoine Gizenga, Vice-Premier and a Prague-trained Communist; the Minister of the Interior with full police powers is Prague-trained Christophe Gbenye; and Remy Mwamba, Minister of Justice, is a devoted follower of Gizenga. A total of 23 out of 44 seats were won by Lumumbists in the recent Congolese parliamentary elections.

But there was one who was determined that if the northern province of his country would go Red, at least the southern province of Katanga would not. He is a pro-Western Methodist, Moise Tshombe. His constant plea to the Western world is "I like you people. I like the West."

Instead of hearkening, however, the West is doing the same thing it has so often done before. It is trying to cut down one of its friends, as it betrayed the Russian people in 1933 by recognizing a band of gangsters as their legitimate government; as it betrayed Gen. Mihailovic in 1943; as it betrayed Chiang Kai-shek; and the people of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, East Germany, Latvia, Esthonia, Bulgaria, Roumania, Cuba, Tibet, and Laos, and as it

MINERAL WEALTH

Katanga is important not just in principle but as one of the richest areas of the African continent. It produces 60-70 percent of the world's cobalt and 7.5 percent of its copper. Russia needs cobalt for the hydrogen bomb and we need it for our battle against cancer—also for high-strength and heat-resistant steel castings.

On Feb. 21, the UN passed a resolution calling for "the restoration of order" in the Congo. But Katanga has had orderly government for well over a year. It is a constitutional republic with its own flag, an army, and a national anthem. You can exchange Katanga money for United States currency, or any other currency, at any bank in the civilized world.

Tshombe is not a dictator. He needs parliamentary approval for his laws and he has a cabinet of 12 ministers and four secretaries.

Surely a people have the right to determine their own form of government. That is how the Belgians were persuaded to withdraw in the first place. That is why the Portuguese are under pressure to withdraw from Angola.

So the Belgians left and Katanga formed its own government, much to the chagrin of the Communists who had gained control of the central government.

Should we not back friend Tshombe and Katanga? Certainly! But instead we are backing the UN, which again—as so often in the past — is implementing Russian policies.

On July 10, Adlai Stevenson handed the UN a check for $32,204,061 as our contribution to the account for operations in the Congo from Jan. 1 to Oct. 31, 1961. Out of every dollar raised by the UN to pay for this war against our good friend Moise Tshombe, the United States has put up 73 cents for a total of $73,554,868. Of the 100 member nations of the UN, only 24 besides our own have paid anything to the fund. Among those paying absolutely nothing are Russia and her satellites, France, Italy, and China.

A BIASED PRESS

The sad thing is that the press is biased against Tshombe. His troops are "white mercenaries" and "foreigners"—and what of the UN troops? When did all of those young Swedes and Irishmen turn brunette? Are they not "foreigners" also? They are, actually, mercenaries in every sense of the term, hired by the UN and paid by the American taxpayers.

Richard Williams, reporting for the British Broadcasting Corp., said that UN armored cars, manned by Irish troops, surveilled, and then opened fire on a group of journalists when they approached.

"Anything that moves is shot at," he said.

He reported that a Red Cross ambulance, clearly marked, had approached the hospital and stalled its engine.

"The driver and the stretcher-bearer, dressed in white, both got out. Indian troops in the post office (some 60 yards away) immediately opened fire at almost point-blank range." Williams said that the ambulance men fell to the street seriously wounded.

"This is the second time in 24 hours that I have seen UN troops firing on a Red Cross vehicle. All the rules of war have gone by the board in this campaign." Williams reported that the UN has machine guns mounted in the hospital windows and is using it as a strategic post.

"Individual Swedes, Irish and Canadians serving with the UN are known to have protested against the outrages committed in the name of the allegedly high moral principles of UN," continues this letter to the London Times. "Elizabethville itself developed into a city of terror and hate—hate by the entire population, black and white, resident and visitors, for the United Nations' troops."

Pray for Moise Tshombe and his beleaguered Katanga. And then say an extra prayer that God may grant wisdom to the bureaucrats of our own State department.

— POPULAR RABBI —

The Democratic Convention in Los Angeles opening July 13, 1960, had full KOSHER cooperation. The platform was written by Sam Rosenman(☆), Philip Perlman(☆), and Leon Keyserling(☆).

The opening invocation was by Dr. Max Nussbaum(☆), a national officer of the American Jewish Congress. He also married Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher.

Rabbi Max Nussbaum belongs to EIGHT COMMUNIST FRONTS.

Morgenthau Sr. Says:-

"Zionism is a Stupendous Fallacy."

(Editors Note: Do not confuse Henry Morgenthau, Sr. with his blockhead son, author of the Morgenthau Starvation Plan for Germany.)

What is this business of "We Jews?" Many, with three generations behind them, refer to themselves as "We Jews."

Our kind of Jew is one like Henry Morgenthau, Sr. He made a positive statement. "I am not a Zionist. I am an American."

Lessing Rosenwald, president of American Council for Judaism, Rabbi Elmer Berger, Benjamin H. Freedman, consider themselves Americans. They are not ranting about "anti-Semitism." They know that under the American way of life they are in no danger of persecution because of a religion.

Actually, Henry Morgenthau, Sr., writing in his book, "All in a Life-Time," states:

"Zionism is the most stupendous fallacy in Jewish history. I assert that it is wrong in principle and impossible of realization; that it is unsound in its economics, fantastical in its politics, and sterile in its spiritual ideals. . . Zionism is a surrender, not a solution. It is a retrogression into the blackest error, and not progress toward the light. I will go further, and say it is an eastern European proposal, fathered in this country by American Jews, which, if it were to succeed, would cost the Jews of America most that they have gained of liberty, equality, and fraternity."

"I claim to speak with knowledge on this subject. I have had occasion to know the Jew intimately in all lands . . . and to study his problems on his own ground. I was born among the Jews of Germany, and by natural association with German Jews in New York, and by repeated visits to Germany, am familiar with their life and problems."

"First, let me trace briefly the origins of Zionism . . . Zionism is based upon a literal acceptance of the promise made to the Jews by their prophets in the Old Testament, that Zion should be restored to them, and that they should resume their once glorious place as a peculiar people, singled out by God for His special favor, exercising dominion over their neighbors in His name, and enjoying all the freedom and blessing of a race under protection of the Almighty."

"Of course, the prophets meant these things symbolically, and were dealing only with the spiritual life. They did not mean earthly power or materialistic blessings. But most Jews accepted them in the physical sense; and they fed upon this glowing dream of earthly grandeur."

"We Jews of America have found America to be our Zion. Therefore, I refuse to allow myself to be called a Zionist. I am an American."
